

Burlington

Alameda County

Business—"The City of the Future"

Location

Burlington is the only city in the State of California which is situated on the border of the San Francisco Bay and the San Joaquin River. It is the only city in the State which is situated on the border of the San Francisco Bay and the San Joaquin River. It is the only city in the State which is situated on the border of the San Francisco Bay and the San Joaquin River.

Trade Route

Burlington is the only city in the State of California which is situated on the border of the San Francisco Bay and the San Joaquin River. It is the only city in the State which is situated on the border of the San Francisco Bay and the San Joaquin River. It is the only city in the State which is situated on the border of the San Francisco Bay and the San Joaquin River.

Population

Burlington is the only city in the State of California which is situated on the border of the San Francisco Bay and the San Joaquin River. It is the only city in the State which is situated on the border of the San Francisco Bay and the San Joaquin River. It is the only city in the State which is situated on the border of the San Francisco Bay and the San Joaquin River.

Climate and Weather

Burlington is the only city in the State of California which is situated on the border of the San Francisco Bay and the San Joaquin River. It is the only city in the State which is situated on the border of the San Francisco Bay and the San Joaquin River. It is the only city in the State which is situated on the border of the San Francisco Bay and the San Joaquin River.

Government

Burlington is the only city in the State of California which is situated on the border of the San Francisco Bay and the San Joaquin River. It is the only city in the State which is situated on the border of the San Francisco Bay and the San Joaquin River. It is the only city in the State which is situated on the border of the San Francisco Bay and the San Joaquin River.

Education

Burlington is the only city in the State of California which is situated on the border of the San Francisco Bay and the San Joaquin River. It is the only city in the State which is situated on the border of the San Francisco Bay and the San Joaquin River. It is the only city in the State which is situated on the border of the San Francisco Bay and the San Joaquin River.

Industry

Burlington is the only city in the State of California which is situated on the border of the San Francisco Bay and the San Joaquin River. It is the only city in the State which is situated on the border of the San Francisco Bay and the San Joaquin River. It is the only city in the State which is situated on the border of the San Francisco Bay and the San Joaquin River.

Burlington has forty cotton and laundry mills and eight manufacturing plants with over ten million invested in manufacturing and a weekly payroll of nearly five thousand dollars. Annual output is 34,000,000 yards of goods and 4,000,000 pairs of shoes.

Population 10,000

1900 — 1902

Alameda—The Pioneer Manufacturing Center

Location.—Alameda is centrally located on the Pacific Coast, between San Francisco and Los Angeles, and is one of the most important manufacturing centers in the West.

Climate.—Alameda is one of the most healthy cities in the West, with a climate that is neither too hot nor too cold, and with a moderate amount of rainfall.

Industry.—Alameda is a center of the textile, clothing, and shoe industries, and is also a center of the food, drug, and hardware industries.

Transportation.—Alameda is one of the most important transportation centers in the West, with a large harbor and a large railway system.

Education.—Alameda is one of the most important educational centers in the West, with a large university and a large high school system.

Health.—Alameda is one of the most important health centers in the West, with a large hospital and a large sanatorium system.

Government.—Alameda is one of the most important government centers in the West, with a large city hall and a large police department.

Religion.—Alameda is one of the most important religious centers in the West, with a large church and a large synagogue.

Amusement.—Alameda is one of the most important amusement centers in the West, with a large park and a large theater.

Alameda County, one of the South's premier fruit-growing counties, produces quantities and so diverse in kind as to attest that it is estimated that the value of agricultural products equals the value of those manufactured, amounting to millions annually.

